Open Field Trips

Field Trips are normally scheduled for specific school classes and parents don't often attend. We are scheduling two open field trips that families are invited to register for individually. This is an ideal opportunity for homeschool families.

October 11th event will focus on animal adaptations in wetlands here in Texas. Target age for the activities will be between ages 8-10.

November 15th event will focus on animal migration patterns here in Texas. Target age for the activities will be between ages 11-15.

The field trips will contain three learning activities.

- Each field trip is open to up to 60 participants.
- Program fee is $3 per participating family member.
- All children must be supervised with a registered adult. We do not require a 1:1 ratio for this trip.
- Siblings outside the target age will be allowed to accompany your family, but activities will be tailored for the focused age group.
- Online registration is required at <http://register.ccparkandrec.com>.
